SERIES I—VOLUME I[illegible] IN TWO PARTS.

PART I—REPORTS, UNION [illegible] SPONDENCE, ETC.

WASHINGTON:
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.
1897.

t volume is indicated in the additions and corrections for index by an asterisk (*) following the additional or corrected e asterisk also shows that the alteration indicated by it will in full, in the additions and corrections for the text.

Following are illustrations of the foregoing explanations:

[Extracts from Additions and Corrections for Volume I of Series I.]

Barclay, Richard A. [Barkley, Captain].

(This shows that the person whose name is indexed as Captain Barkley in the volume index has been identified as Richard A. Barclay, that the words in italics should be substituted, in the volume index, for the words in brackets, and that in the text of the volume the name Barkley should be changed to Barclay. The rank of the officer is correctly stated in the text, and should not be changed there, but the word "captain" should be stricken out in the volume index, upon the insertion of the full name therein, in conformity with the general plan of the index, to which, as a rule, the rank of officers is omitted where the full names are shown.)

Baltic, Steamer, 24.

(This entry adds page 24 to the other page references printed in the volume index.)

Bradfute, W. R., 632 [Captain, 932].

(This entry, in addition to supplying the missing initials of the Christian name, shows that the page number—932—as it stands in the volume index is wrong and should be 632, also that the word and figures in brackets should be erased in the volume index.)

Mervine, William.
Declaration of blockade at Key West, Fla., 429.

(This shows that the words and figures in italics should be inserted in the volume index under the name of William Mervine.)

Lincoln, Abraham.
Correspondence with Congress [Senate of the], United States.

(This indicates that "Congress" should be substituted for "Senate of the" in the volume index.)

*Wilson, Joseph K., 567.

(This shows, by the use of the asterisk (*), that an alteration in the text on page 567 of the volume referred to is necessary and that the character of the alteration is described in the additions and corrections for the text of the volume. It also shows, by the use of italic letters and figures, that the name and page reference should be inserted in the volume index.)

SYNOPSIS OF THE CONTENTS OF VOLUMES.

Each book in the entire work is marked on the back as follows: 1st, with the number designating the series (first, second, third or fourth) to which the volume belongs; 2d, with the volume number of that series; 3d, with the part number of the volume (where the volume consists of more than one book or part). Roman numerals are used to designate the several series, volumes and parts. In addition, each book after Volume XXIII bears a serial, running or book number, in arabic figures, which simply designates the position of that particular book in the entire work and has no connection with the roman numerals used to designate the four series and the various volumes and parts into which the work is divided. The first thirty-five books (Volumes I to XXIII) are not marked with the serial or running numbers here assigned to them, but those numbers, as stated above, appear on all later books, beginning with Volume XXIV, Part I, to which book the serial or running number 36 has been assigned. The serial or running numbers of all the books from 1 to 130 are given in the following statement, although corresponding numbers will not be found printed on the first thirty-five books.

SERIE

GENERAL INDEX.

[Serial No. 130.]

General index to the entire work, with an appendix containing additions and corrections of errors discovered in the several volumes after their publication. It also includes "Special Compilations" containing (1) a synopsis of the contents of volumes; (2) a special index for the principal armies, army corps, military divisions and departments; and (3) a table showing volumes pertaining to contemporaneous operations.

ATLAS.

The index to the Atlas accompanying the volumes contains a complete table of contents, to which reference should be had for detailed information respecting the maps, sketches and illustrations therein published.

COMPANION VOLUMES.

The military operations throughout the country, and the volumes of Series I which pertain to them, are naturally divided into four great groups, viz:

First.—Operations in Maryland, Eastern North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Virginia (except Southwestern) and West Virginia—Volumes 1, 2, 4, 5, 9, 11, 12, 18, 19, 21, 25, 27, 29, 33, 36, 37, 40, 42, 43, 46, 51.

Second.—Operations in Southwestern Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, West Florida and Northern Georgia—Volumes 1, 4, 6, 7, 10, 15, 16, 17, 20, 23, 24, 26, 30, 31, 32, 38, 39, 45, 49, 52.

Third.—Operations in South Carolina, Southern Georgia, Middle and East Florida and Western North Carolina—Volumes 1, 6, 14, 28, 35, 44, 47, 53.

Fourth.—Operations in Louisiana and the Trans-Mississippi States and Territories, the Pacific Coast and Department of the Northwest—Volumes 1, 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 13, 15, 22, 26, 34, 41, 48, 50, 53.

Volumes 51, 52 and 53 should always be consulted in connection with the several volumes to which they are supplemental.

SPECIAL INDEX

FOR THE

PRINCIPAL ARMIES, ARMY CORPS, MILITARY DIVISIONS AND DEPARTMENTS.

In accordance with the plan of indexing which was adopted at the outset of the publication and has been adhered to throughout the whole work, for the purpose of securing uniformity in the indexes and preventing their becoming unwieldy, the principal reports and correspondence pertaining to brigades, divisions, army corps, armies and geographical military divisions and departments have not been indexed, either in the volumes or in the general index, under the designating titles of the organizations to which they pertain, but are referred to under the names of the commanding officers and others concerned in the correspondence. It is necessary, therefore, in order to find in the index references to the operations of a particular brigade or higher organization, to first ascertain the name of the commanding officer of the organization for the period in question. This being done, the desired references can be readily found under that name in the volume index or through the general index. A list of the reports, for each important battle, campaign or other military operation, that appear in any volume follows the "Summary of Principal Events" in that volume. In addition to this, the volumes contain rosters of troops and commanders for the principal campaigns and battles, and other rosters at dates from two to four months apart will be found throughout the whole work. By referring to these lists and rosters the searcher will be enabled to find the names of commanders of brigades, divisions, army corps and other organizations, under which he must seek in the volume indexes for page references to documents pertaining to those organizations. (See explanatory note preceding each of the volume indexes.)

As an additional aid to the searcher, the following special index has been compiled. This index shows, for each of the principal army corps, armies and geographical military divisions and departments, all the volumes containing reports or correspondence relating especially to those organizations. For page references to these documents, the indexes of the several volumes indicated in the special index must be consulted under the names of commanding officers. Those names can be readily ascertained in the manner pointed out above.

In this special index, as in the general index, the various series of the publication are designated by roman numerals and the volumes by arabic figures. Parts of the volumes are not shown, and consequently when a volume referred to consists of more than one part the index of each part must be consulted.

NOTE.—There was an Army of the Mississippi in the Western Department organized and commanded by General Bragg in March, 1862; this army was denominated Army of Tennessee in November, 1862. Another army, serving in Department of Mississippi and East Louisiana in 1862 and 1863, under General Pemberton, was also called Army of the Mississippi. On May 12, 1864, General Polk designated his command as the Army of the Mississippi. As no distinction seems to have been made between these armies in some of the volume indexes (especially the later volumes) none has been made in this index.

NOTE.—Constituted May 8, 1862, and on Nov. 25, 1862, designated as Trans-Alleghany or Western Department of Virginia. The territory embraced in this department extended "west to the eastern boundary of Kentucky and as far west of that boundary as circumstances may allow." On Sept. 27, 1864, the jurisdiction of the commanding officer was extended over "the reserve forces of East Tennessee." On Feb. 20, 1865, Lieutenant-General Early's command was extended to embrace this territory and was designated the Department of Western Virginia and East Tennessee. This command has been variously indexed in the several volumes as—
Southwestern Virginia, Department of Southwestern Va. and East Tenn., Dept. of

TABLE SHOWING VOLUMES PERTAINING TO CONTEMPORANEOUS OPERATIONS.

This table shows the volumes containing documents relating to operations in each month from December, 1860, to the end of the war. By the aid of the table the reader can find the records of all contemporaneous operations throughout the country during any month of any year. The series are indicated by roman numerals I, II, III, IV, meaning, respectively, first, second, third and fourth series. Arabic figures, following the roman numerals, are used to indicate the volumes of the several series, and point to volumes alone and not to parts thereof.

GENERAL INDEX.

GENERAL INDEX.

Roman numerals designate the series and arabic figures the volumes. The arabic figures point to volumes alone and not to parts thereof. Indexes to the several parts of volumes should therefore be examined for definite reference to matter pertaining to any particular event, subject or person. A plus sign (+) following a volume reference shows that the "Additions and Corrections" (pages 1091–1242, post) for the volume indicated should be consulted. For further explanations see pages XXV–XXVIII, ante.

Forts.
Entered in this index under the word following prefix Fort except when the name is itself used as a prefix. Volume indexes are not uniform in this respect. Search should therefore be made under prefix when not found under the word following. When the name of a fort becomes the name of a city or place the inversion is abandoned.
